Dear Mr. Knight:

The purpose of this letter is to provide you information concerning corrections of your disability separation records as a result of the approval by the Deputy Assistant Secretary (DASA) of the Army Review Boards Agency. This approval was based on a recommendation by the Department of Defense Physical Disability Board of Review (PDBR).

Your original separation order has been amended, modifying your disability rating to 10% without recharacterization to your separation. A copy of the amendment is enclosed. Your severance pay amount is not affected by this change, because severance pay is not based on your rating.

If you have any further questions on your orders, please contact Mr. Albert Whitlock, Physical Disability Agency, at (703) 325-2724 or Albert.J.Whitlock.civ@mail.mil.

If you have any further questions pertaining to this decision, please contact Mr. Stacy Abrams, Army Review Boards Agency, at (703) 545-5668.

Dear Mr. Knight:

The Department of Defense Physical Disability Board of Review (DoD PDBR) reviewed your application and found that your disability rating should be modified but not to the degree that would justify changing your separation for disability with severance pay to a permanent retirement with disability. I have reviewed the Board's recommendation and record of proceedings (copy enclosed) and I accept its recommendation. This will not result in any change to your separation document or the amount of severance pay. A copy of this decision will be filed with your Physical Evaluation Board records. I regret that the facts of the case did not provide you with the outcome you may have desired.

This decision is final. Recourse within the Department of Defense or the Department of the Army is exhausted; however, you have the option to seek relief by filing suit in a court of appropriate jurisdiction.

A copy of this decision has also been provided to the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR, ARMY REVIEW BOARDS AGENCY

SUBJECT: Physical Disability Board of Review Recommendation on Parker M. Knight (Oh, Hyunseok M.)
Case Number: PD-2013-00151

In accordance with Title 10 § 1554a and in compliance with DoDI 6040.44, the Physical Disability Board of Review (PDBR) convened on June 18, 2013 to review the disability rating accompanying the medical separation of the covered individual from the United States Army. After carefully reviewing the application and medical separation case file, the PDBR recommended modification of the disability rating previously assigned to reflect a combined rating of 10% rather than 0%, without re-characterization of the separation.

I have reviewed the application and Record of Proceedings and I recommend you accept this proposed decision.

As a reminder, a copy of your decisional documents must be provided to the PDBR at the following address:

RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS
PHYSICAL DISABILITY BOARD OF REVIEW

NAME: KNIGHT, PARKER M. (OH, HYUNSEOK M.)
BRANCH OF SERVICE: ARMY
DATE OF SEPARATION: 20070918

CASE: PD1300151
BOARD DATE: 20130618

SUMMARY OF CASE: Data extracted from the available evidence of record reflects that this covered individual (CI) was an active duty SPC/E-4 (25B20/Information Systems Operator-Analyst) medically separated for right knee chondromalacia. In October of 2006 he underwent a right knee arthroscopy which found some diffuse chondromalacia, but no meniscal pathology or ligamentous injury. The condition could not be adequately rehabilitated to meet the physical requirements of his Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) or satisfy physical fitness standards. He was issued a permanent L3 profile and referred for a Medical Evaluation Board (MEB). The right knee condition was forwarded to the Informal Physical Evaluation Board (IPEB) as medically unacceptable IAW AR 40-501. The MEB also identified and forwarded left knee pain, obstructive sleep apnea (OSA), depressive disorder and low back pain (LBP) conditions, judged to meet retention standards. The IPEB adjudicated the right knee chondromalacia condition as unfitting, rated 0%. The remaining conditions were determined to be not unfitting and therefore not rated. The CI appealed to the Formal PEB, which affirmed the IPEB findings and rating. The CI then appealed to the Army Review Boards Agency, which also substantiated the IPEB findings due to no new evidence being provided. Finally the CI appealed to the Board for Correction of Military Records (BCMR) which also denied his case. The CI was then medically separated.

CI CONTENTION: "Veterans Affairs awarded "Total and Permanent" Disability rating."

SCOPE OF REVIEW: The Board's scope of review is defined in DoDI 6040.44, Enclosure 3, paragraph 5.e. (2). It is limited to those conditions determined by the PEB to be unfitting for continued military service and those conditions identified but not determined to be unfitting by the PEB when specifically requested by the CI. The rating for the unfitting right knee condition is addressed below. The Board acknowledges the CI's implied contention for ratings of his left knee, OSA, depressive disorder and low back conditions, noted above, which were determined to be not unfitting by the PEB; and, emphasizes that disability compensation may only be offered for those conditions that cut short the member's career. Should the Board judge that any contended condition was incompatible with the specific duty requirements; a disability rating IAW the Veterans Affairs Schedule for Rating Disabilities (VASRD) based on the degree of disability evidenced at separation, will be recommended. The Disability Evaluation System has neither the role nor the authority to compensate members for anticipated future severity or potential complications of conditions resulting in medical separation. That role and authority is granted by Congress to the Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA), operating under a different set of laws. Board considers DVA evidence proximate to separation in arriving at its recommendations; and, DoDI 6040.44 defines a 12-month interval for special consideration to post-separation evidence. Post-separation evidence is probative to the Board's recommendations only to the extent that it reasonably reflects the disability at the time of separation. Any conditions or contention not requested in this application, or otherwise outside the Board's defined scope of review, remain eligible for future consideration by the BCMR.

ANALYSIS SUMMARY:

Right Knee Chondromalacia Condition. The goniometric range-of-motion (ROM) evaluations in evidence which the Board weighed in arriving at its rating recommendation, with documentation of additional ratable criteria, are summarized in the chart below.

Right Knee ROM (Degrees)	Ortho MEB ~7 Mo. Mo. Pre-Sep (20070222)	VA C&P ~1 Mo. Pre-Sep (20070825)
Flexion (140 Normal)	135	130
Extension (0 Normal)	0	0
Comment	Avg of 3 Mild tenderness No instability Normal gait	Tenderness Painful motion No instability Normal gait
§4.71a Rating	0%	10%

The CI initially presented with right knee pain in February and March 2006 related to excessive physical activity and a trailer striking the right knee while on TDY. Magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) on 9 March 2006 showed a subtle partial tear and degeneration of the right lateral meniscus. He underwent right knee arthroscopy in October 2006 with a finding of diffuse chondromalacia, but no meniscal pathology or ligamentous injury. Persisting pain resulted in referral to MEB in January 2007. The MEB physical exam on 9 February 2007 documented on a DD Form 2808, noted right knee peripatellar tenderness, without swelling. ROM was full and strength was normal. A 16 February 2007 clinic examination noted a normal gait. The orthopedic MEB narrative summary (NARSUM) performed 7 months prior to separation, noted CI reported bilateral knee pain. Exam of right knee revealed mild tenderness to palpation (TTP) along the medial joint line without swelling. The ROM listed in the chart was based on an average of three measurements and was essentially normal. There was no ligamentous instability and strength was normal in the right lower extremity. The orthopedics examiner noted that the right knee MRI findings of a medial meniscus tear and a partial tear of the anterior cruciate ligament were not confirmed at the time of arthroscopic examination. Diagnosis was right knee chondromalacia. A 22 August 2007 podiatry examination recorded a normal gait. At the VA Compensation and Pension exam 25 August 2007, performed a month prior to separation, the CI reported daily, constant pain in both knees 7-8 with medications and 9-10 out of 10 without medications. Pain was worse with prolonged standing. He did not use a cane or crutches but used knee brace bilaterally. Right knee ROM is listed in the chart above and was comparable to the MEB examination. Painful motion was noted. There was tenderness of the medial and anterior knee. Gait and strength were normal.

The Board directs attention to its rating recommendation based on the above evidence. The PEB rated the right knee chondromalacia condition 0% and coded it 5099-5003 status post arthroscopy. The VA rated the chondromalacia right knee condition 10% and coded it 5260-5014 for limited and painful motion. There was no limitation of motion that attained a minimum rating under the diagnostic codes for limitation of motion (5260 flexion, 5261 extension). There was no instability or meniscus pathology for ratings under the respective codes (5257, 5258, 5259). Arthroscopic findings of patellofemoral chondromalacia supported pain with use. There was sufficient evidence to support a 10% rating considering VASRD §4.59 (Painful motion), and VASRD §4.40 (Functional loss). After due deliberation, considering all of the evidence and mindful of VASRD §4.3 (Reasonable doubt), the Board recommends a disability rating of 10% for the chondromalacia, right knee condition.

Contended PEB Conditions. The Board's main charge is to assess the fairness of the PEB's determination that the left knee pain, lumbago, OSA and depressive disorder conditions were not unfitting. The Board's threshold for countering fitness determinations is higher than the VASRD §4.3 (Reasonable doubt) standard used for its rating recommendations, but remains adherent to the DoDI 6040.44 "fair and equitable" standard.

Contended Left Knee Pain Condition. In December 2006 the CI reported left knee pain incurred when the right knee was initially injured in February 2006. Although the CI reported a generator had fallen onto both his knees, primary treatment records at the time of the initial right knee injury recorded a trailer had struck him on the right knee without any mention of left knee injury. Treatment records were silent with regard to left knee pain prior to this time and the CI stated that the right knee hurt so much more he didn't worry about the left knee. The CI reported the left knee hurt with any activity, has "buckled" and caused him to fall on occasion. An MRI of the left knee on 19 January 2007 reported evidence of a torn medial meniscus. The MEB physical exam on 9 February 2007 (DD Form 2808) noted left knee exam showed tenderness without swelling, with full ROM. An orthopedic examination of the left knee 12 February 2007 noted tenderness with absence of locking and instability. A clinic examination 16 February 2007 recorded normal gait. The orthopedic MEB NARSUM reported normal left knee motion (flexion of 135 degrees, extension 0 degrees), with mild tenderness. There was no instability, strength was normal, and gait was normal. The orthopedic surgeon concluded the abnormal MRI findings of the left knee were most likely inaccurate in light of the absence of correlating clinical findings and the fact that the right knee had similar MRI findings that were not confirmed at surgery. Orthopedic examination demonstrated normal ROM (flexion 150, extension 0) without instability or joint line tenderness. Anterior knee tenderness was noted. The orthopedic surgeon noted minimal true mechanical symptoms to correlate with the left knee MRI examination. The left knee was never profiled and the final P3 profile did not include a disability of the left knee. The commander's statement never referenced findings related to the left knee and it was not judged to fail retention standards. There was no performance based evidence from the record that this condition significantly interfered with satisfactory duty performance.

Contended Lumbago Condition. Service treatment records demonstrate a history of recurring LBP since 2002. MRI showed a minimal disc bulge at L4 with early degeneration. A clinic examination 28 February 2007 recorded normal contour, full ROM, with normal gait, strength and reflexes. Physical medicine evaluation noted absence of radiculopathy, unremarkable MRI and a normal back examination with normal strength. There was diffuse superficial tenderness to palpation. The physical medicine specialist concluded the back pain met retention standards. The lumbago was profiled (lumbar degenerative disc disease) and was implicated in the commander's statement but was not judged to fail retention standards by the MEB. The Board determined that the preponderance of evidence indicated that the lumbago condition was not unfitting for continued military service.

Contended Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA) Condition. CI was diagnosed with mild OSA after polysomnogram on 13 January 2006. Continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP) was the recommended treatment but CI did not return for follow up in sleep clinic until 2 March 2007. He was referred to otolaryngology for further evaluation because he preferred corrective surgery to CPAP. An ear, nose, and throat addendum for sleep apnea noted that he met retention standards. The OSA was never profiled nor implicated in the commander's statement.

Contended Depressive Disorder Condition. CI had a history of childhood physical and emotional abuse and made a suicide attempt at 10 years old. He described hazing, racial harassment, and sexual assault during deployment to Iraq 2004. At the same time, he learned his wife had filed for divorce, delivered a baby that was not his, and took all his possessions. He described most of his military experience as negative. He was seen in the combat stress clinic in Iraq for about 4 sessions. He returned from Iraq in February 2005. He began treatment for posttraumatic stress disorder and depression in October 2005 with Wellbutrin, which he felt was mostly effective. A psychiatry MEB consult on 3 April 2007 rendered a diagnosis of depressive disorder not otherwise specified that did not fail retention standards. This condition was never profiled nor was it implicated in the commander's statement.

All contended conditions were reviewed and considered by the Board. There was no performance based evidence from the record that any of these conditions significantly interfered with satisfactory duty performance. After due deliberation in consideration of the preponderance of the evidence, the Board concluded that there was insufficient cause to recommend a change in the PEB fitness determinations for lumbago, left knee pain, OSA, and depressive disorder and so no additional disability ratings are recommended.

BOARD FINDINGS: IAW DoDI 6040.44, provisions of DoD or Military Department regulations or guidelines relied upon by the PEB will not be considered by the Board to the extent they were inconsistent with the VASRD in effect at the time of the adjudication. In the matter of the right knee condition, the Board unanimously recommends a disability rating of 10%, coded 5099-5003 IAW VASRD §4.71a, §4.59, and §4.40. In the matter of the contended lumbago, left knee pain, OSA, and depressive disorder conditions, the Board unanimously recommends no change from the PEB determinations as not unfitting. There were no other conditions within the Board's scope of review for consideration.

RECOMMENDATION: The Board recommends that the CI's prior determination be modified as follows, effective as of the date of his prior medical separation:

UNFITTING CONDITION	VASRD CODE	RATING
Right Knee Chondromalacia	5099-5003	10%
	COMBINED	10%

DoD issues new rules for sex assault cases

By Andrew Tilghman
atilghman@militarytimes.com

Troops accused of sexual assault may be abruptly reassigned or transferred during a pretrial investigation, a measure intended to reduce the potential for contact between victims and alleged perpetrators, according to new rules unveiled by the Pentagon on Aug. 15.

It's one of several in the latest round of changes to the way military sexual assault reports are handled, coming amid mounting pressure from Congress to crack down on sexual predators in the ranks.

The new rules also will require that unrestricted reports of sexual assault, or those in which the victim agrees to cooperate with investigators, be fast-tracked to the desk of a one-star general or flag officer in that chain of command, an effort to improve oversight, official said.

And the Defense Department will begin providing attorneys for alleged victims of sexual assault to represent their interests in any legal proceedings. That aims to address concerns that many victims are wrongly targeted when they admit to low-level misconduct, such as underage drinking or fraternizing, during official statements about their attacks.

Critics of the military's current system say victims simply do not trust their chain of command to take their reports seriously and to aggressively investigate and punish the offenders.

The Pentagon's own data lends credence to those critiques. Internal surveys suggested that about 26,000 troops were the victims of unwanted sexual contact last year, yet the number of sexual assaults that are officially reported is less than 3,400, according to the report.

The top brass says these new measures are designed to increase victims' trust. "We want to increase the number of unrestricted reporting, and we can only get that if we work on the trust of the victims," Lt. Gen. Curtis Scaparrotti, director of the Joint Staff, said at a new briefing at the Pentagon.

The term "unrestricted reporting" refers to a complete report from a victim who is willing to file a criminal complaint. The military also allows for "restricted reporting" that allows victims to seek medical care and counseling for a sexual assault without triggering a criminal investigation and charges.

Support on Capitol Hill is growing for a proposed law that would strip commanders of their authority to oversee sexual assault cases that occur in their commands and instead create a new military legal office to prosecute offenders.

Supporters of that idea say the current system is flawed because victims may be reluctant to file reports to their own workplace supervisors, and commanders may be reluctant to aggressively pursue accusations lodged against troops under their command.

The military brass emphatically opposes the idea, saying it would undermine commanders' authority and limit their ability to crack down on sexual assaults.

Scaparrotti said the latest changes were made in "collaboration" with Congress.

But one of the military's toughest critics, Sen. Kirsten Gillibrand, D-N.Y., said the new rules still do not go far enough.

"The Pentagon taking action is a good thing, and these are positive steps forward, but it is not the leap forward required to solve the problem. We have heard over and over again from the victims and the top military leadership themselves, there is a lack of trust in the system that has a chilling effect on reporting," Gillibrand said Aug. 15.

She has 38 cosponsors for her bill that would strip oversight from commanders.

Other changes announced by the Pentagon include the requirement that pre-trial hearings for troops accused of sexual assault must be overseen by an officer who is a trained attorney.

The DoD Inspector General also will begin routinely evaluating closed sexual assault investigations to ensure proper procedures were followed.

The change that will give commanders the authority to reassign or transfer troops accused of sexual assault came in response to critics who said victims can be traumatized by repeatedly encountering their attackers.

Previous rules allowed commanders to reassign or transfer the victims, but critics say that placed an unfair burden on the victims. □
